

“Advice is judged by results not intentions”

— Cicero

▶ You are invited to join us for a new series of information-packed presentations designed to help employers anticipate emerging regulatory issues and stay abreast of the latest human resources trends and best practices.

Whether you're hiring employees, initiating wellness programs, offering COBRA, monitoring HIPAA Security, handling workers-compensation issues, preparing 5500 reports or setting up a 401(k) plan, keeping up with benefits and employment laws is challenging at best. However, you can maximize your time and make informed choices by taking advantage of the shared wisdom and collective knowledge of our professional team of industry experts.

This series is brought to you by United Benefit Advisors – an affiliation of nearly 140 premier independent benefit advisory firms and one of the nation's five largest employee benefits advisory organizations – and Fisher & Phillips LLP, Attorneys at Law, with nearly a half-century of practice in employment law and offices in 19 major cities in the U.S.
